DENVER
THE MILE HIGH CITY

AGENCY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

City and County of Denver
Office of Immigrant and Refugee Affairs

The Denver Office of Immigrant and Refugee Affairs (DOIRA) is an office within the Agency for Human Rights and Community Partnerships (HRCP) at the City and County of Denver.

- HRCP strives to empower and serve the communities of Denver by advocating for the rights of all people, fostering diversity, and encouraging participation in City government.
- The Denver Office of Immigrant and Refugee Affairs partners with nonprofits, community-based organizations, residents, and government agencies to develop and implement policies, practices and programs that influence the various paths of immigrant integration.

The purpose of this guide is to provide information on programs and services in the City and County of Denver for immigrants and refugees to better assist individuals and organizations access them regardless of immigration status. Listing an agency in this guide does not signify an endorsement by DOIRA nor does the inclusion of the agency signify an endorsement of us.

Organizations and programs are dynamic and always changing. We have tried to provide the most accurate information, but it is important to contact an agency to obtain the most current details. This guide was last updated in April 2023. If you would like to update any information in this guide and/or know of an agency that would like to be included, please contact us on our website.

Additional resources can be found through the Mile High United Way's 2-1-1 program or the City and County of Denver's 3-1-1 program.

- 2-1-1 can be accessed by dialing these three numbers or through their website at www.unitedwaydenver.org. They maintain the largest database for health and human services in the Rocky Mountain Region.
- Denver's 3-1-1 can be accessed by dialing these three numbers and can assist you with all City and County of Denver non-emergency service requests, questions, problems, and concerns.

Components of the ESL model include supported English content instruction and English language development. The kind of services provided at each school is determined by the number of English language learners at the school.

As a part of the ELA, there are 2 newcomer centers, located at Merrill Middle School and South High School, that provide instruction for limited English proficient middle school and high school students who are new to Denver Public Schools and have had limited or interrupted education. They offer intensive instruction in reading, writing, and understanding English for one or two semesters to prepare students for participation in an ESL or a transitional native language instruction model. Initial screening occurs in the home school, and those deemed appropriate are referred to the Newcomer Center for further evaluation.

Interpretation and translation services are provided in Arabic, Spanish, and Vietnamese.
